Provider Information Notice (PIN) Summary

The California Department of Social Services has launched a free mobile version of its transparency website.

The California Department of Social Services maintains a transparency website that allows the public to search for licensed facilities and view information on their past inspections, reports, citations, and complaints. It provides individuals and their families with an important resource to assist in the evaluation of facilities.

The Department has recently launched a mobile version of this website. CDSS Facility Search is a free application, and can be acquired in both the Apple and Google Play app stores. It maintains the same functionality of the transparency website, while providing a platform that is better suited to mobile devices.
